

PORTLAND MARKETS

Latest Quotations in the Portland Markets.

Complete Market Reports Corrected Each Day Giving the Wholesale Prices of Commodities, Farm Produce and Vegetables.

Portland, Nov. 18.—A good many turkeys, both live and dressed, were received on Front street today, and as the Thanksgiving demand has not opened, their sale is slow. The dressed birds are likely to be sent to cold storage until a day or two before Thanksgiving. The live ones will have to be killed and sent to storage also, unless sold within a day or two, as turkeys fall away rapidly in confinement. Prices for live and dressed turkeys quoted today are merely nominal, as very few sales have been made. Most dealers think the market will open up on the Monday before Thanksgiving and that prices will be remunerative to the producer.

The chicken market is also expected to be more profitable than it has been since the closing of the fair. It is thought that more turkeys and chickens will be needed in the market Thanksgiving week than in any previous year, as population is greater, and a large proportion of the people are more prosperous.
